

Jennifer and Thomas Wilson

Infant: Jacob; Twins: Ava & Emma, age 4; TJ (Thomas, Jr.), second grade

Dad is a lawyer and Mom is a high school math teacher. They realize that there was probably more they could have done to help their first child get ready for school. Both parents work and need some things they can do at home that are simple and doesn't require a lot of time.

Yasmin Zhang

Gen, high school; George, preschool

Yasmin is a single mom who works 12 hour shifts at hospital. She works long hours and is usually pretty tired. She is looking for things she can do at home on days off and that her older son can also do with his younger brother.

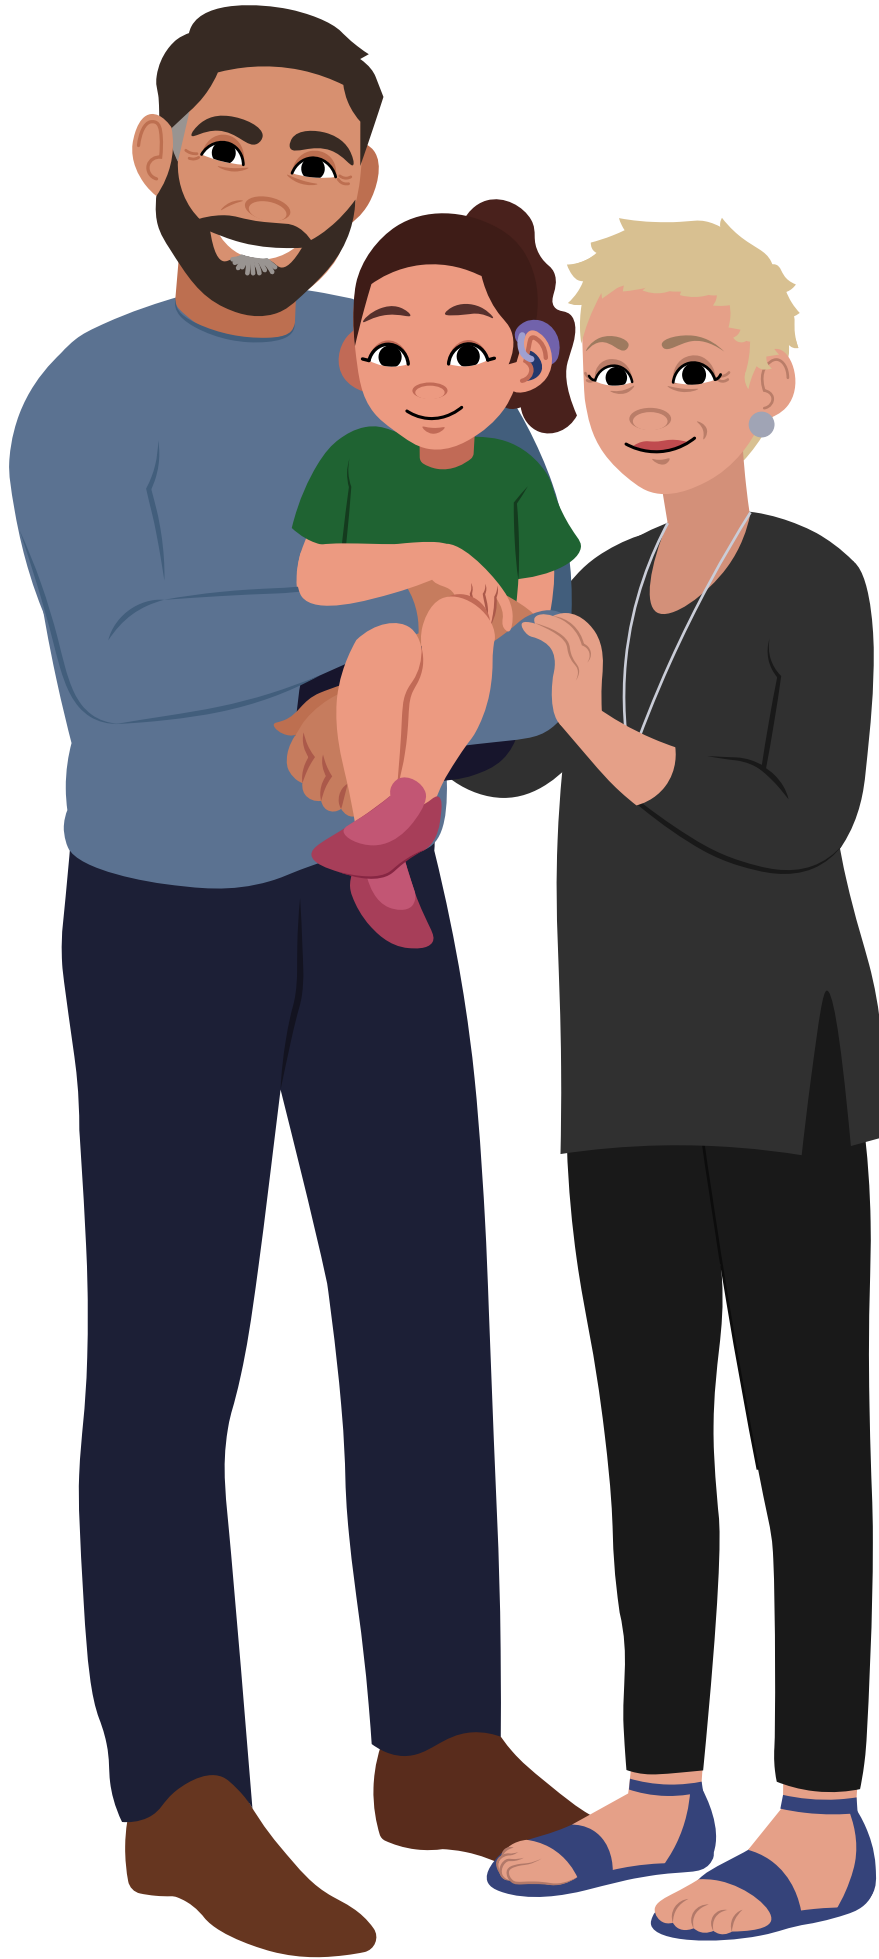

Gloria Richardson, grandmother

Shantell, adult daughter and her children:

Chloe, toddler; Jordon, age 3; Malik, age 5; Anthony, age 6

Gloria is a retired librarian and helps her daughter who works the late shift at a casino. The daughter, Shantell, has four children. Grandma wants to help the children do well in school. Parent Academy gives her activities she can use for the younger ones not yet in school.

Jason and Charlotte Gordon
Isabella Garcia, age 4

Jason and Charlotte Gordon are an older couple who never had kids. They foster Isabella, who is a special needs child. Mom stays at home and dad works at a factory. They need activities to work with Isabella at home.

Chandra Davis, grandmother
Son, Antwon, and his daughter Jadyn, age 4

Grandma cares for her son's daughter. Antwon has custody but works as a truck driver. He is looking for activities that his mom can do to help the daughter when he is on the road and he can continue when he's at home.

Sophia Santana

Gabriella, age 4

Sophia is a young single mom works as a receptionist at car dealership and is a full-time college student. She values education and wants her daughter to be ready for kindergarten.

Becca Davis and John Murphy

Rosie, age 3; Simon, age 4

Becca and John have one daughter, Rosie, who is 3 years old. John is the produce manager at a nearby grocery store. Becca has a part-time retail job on the weekends, and cares for both Rosie and her sister's son, Simon, during the week.